Termites devour 10 Million rupees in Indian bank vault

cbsnews.com - Friday, April 22nd, 2011 at 1:30 PM

Police in India are investigating after termites apparently broke into a bank's strong room and munched their way through 10 million rupees ($EC599,400) of currency, Global Post reports.

Staff at the State Bank of India in Arthur, near the northern India city of Luck, were horrified when they opened the steel vault to discover the damage, blaming it on an insect infestation.

Reports said police have not ruled out foul play.
